

THE success of any business depends on the men behind it and on the methods they employ.

That is why in choosidg your bank, men and methods are as important as money. No matter how large the resources behind a financial institution, no matter how sound its principles, it is not a safe depository unless the men behind it are men of big ability, and the methods they employ are those of modern business.

The officers and directors of The First National Bank of Celina are men of ability proven through success. Your money will be wisely managed in their hands under the most approved methods of modern business.

We invite you to make your deposits in the bank which lists its total resources in "Money, Men and Methods."

According to a new ruling of the Post-office Department at Washington D. C., it will be necessary for the sender of a piece of mail to be more careful in writing the address. In the future all states must be written out fully instead of abbreviated. When that is complied with there will be no danger of sending Coiorado mail to California or vice vers, on account of the similarity of the "Col." and 'al.", due to the carelessness of many people in addressing mail. The reason for this ruling is with a view for cutting down the amount of mail that has been isnding at the Dead Letter Office at Washington. Thousands of letters are missent every year because the sender is careless in addressing his epistle. If you want your mail to reach it destination be sure to observe the above ruling of the Department and avoid yourself and the Postal Officials great annoyance.
